SIT WELL, THINK BETTER

SITTING POSTURE AND ERGONOMIC CHAIR

Sitting posture is a natural posture of the human body, it can avoid muscle fatigue, reduce human body energy consumption, and also helps the operator adopt a more stable posture to perform various delicate and fine movement tasks.

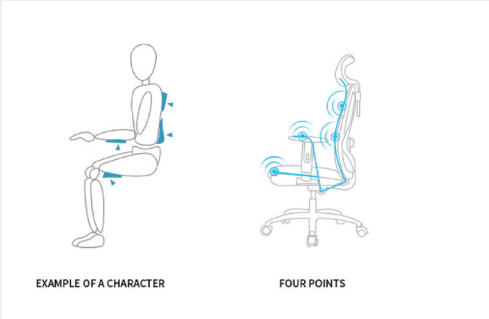

However, bad posture for a long time will leave you with many disadvantages to your health, such as lumbar muscle degeneration, spinal lesions, poor blood circulation, etc. Therefore, in addition to fully considering the static and dynamic dimensions of the human body, a good chair also needs to provide users with good support and guidance in different sitting postures.

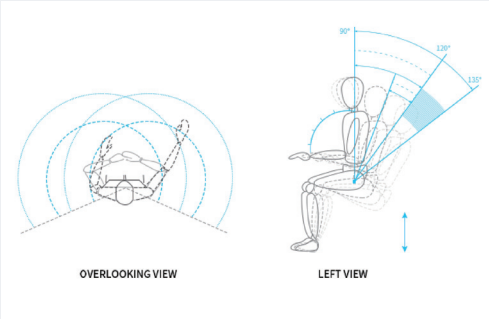

The gravity distribution of the sitter is reasonable and the muscles are relaxed.

The thighs are approximately horizontal, and the feet naturally land on the ground.

Multi-dimensional support for the body provides good work stability.

Convenient to change positions.

MEETING ROOM

As the core of the meeting room, the design of the meeting chair must take into account all relevant factors to ensure that the participants can communicate and interact in a comfortable and healthy environment. Only the chair that meets the ergonomics, space utilization, occasion requirements and design style can make the meeting achieve the best results.
